world as a champion amateur wrestler and judoka before making a natural transition to squared circle competition in the early 80s. Brits' exceptional pure wrestling panurgy and ascendancy in combat transformed him into a world-class champion and one of the most popular SA wrestlers in history.

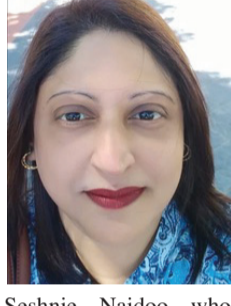

Always one to bear a smile and shake the hands of fans in attendance, his prime years journeyed parallel to the golden age of rofstoei, an era when tens of thousands of fans would sell out the most extensive arenas in Mzansi. Brits were not only regarded as one of the best in that era, but as one of the biggest box office draws. Among Danie Brits' greatest title accomplishments, he was the South African Heavyweight Champion, WCA World Champion, UWF World Heavyweight Champion, UWF World Tag Team Champion, and UWF South African Heavyweight Champion. More legendary even than his championship reigns, were his classic, oft-frenzied altercations with arch-rivals Gama Singh, Giant Warrior, Danie Voges, Shaun Koen, and others – legendary feuds and matches which remain some of SA wrestling's greatest memories.

Former Wrestling World and Tag Team Champion: Debut: 1983 and retired in 2007. Die 4th September 2020.

Danie Brits is a retired South African professional wrestler and former Heavy Weight Champion, known for his work in many South Africa's major promotions in the past and for his 1980's stint as The Masked Tornado.

Danie Brits began his hallmark pro wrestling career more than 30 years ago, starting out in the sports World Wrestling Superstars and UWF promoter Mano Singh, "When I started the wrestling business in 1993, I was 25 years old, I had the privilege of working with these legends locally and internationally, they really gave me their support. The name Danie Brits / SA Tornado stands out in my mind as a true Champion and legend in the Wrestling business. Someone who would never back down from any challenge faced being inside or outside of the ring".

Under the banner UWF and World Wrestling Superstars run by Mano Singh, Danie Brits has fought some 100 Odd matches inclusive of World Championship match against Gama Singh; these two rivals had a feud going on for over 20 years and wherever they fought the memories of packed stadiums to capacity stands out nationally. He also fought in a Tag team championship, and many other memorable matches against another legend Tiger Singh. One of the memorable highlights was his Title fight with Akam Singh.

"I want to pay my respects and condolences to the Brits family. May this great legend be honoured for his contribution to the Wrestling fraternity, May God bless his soul. Long Live the Name Danie Brits:" stated Singh.
